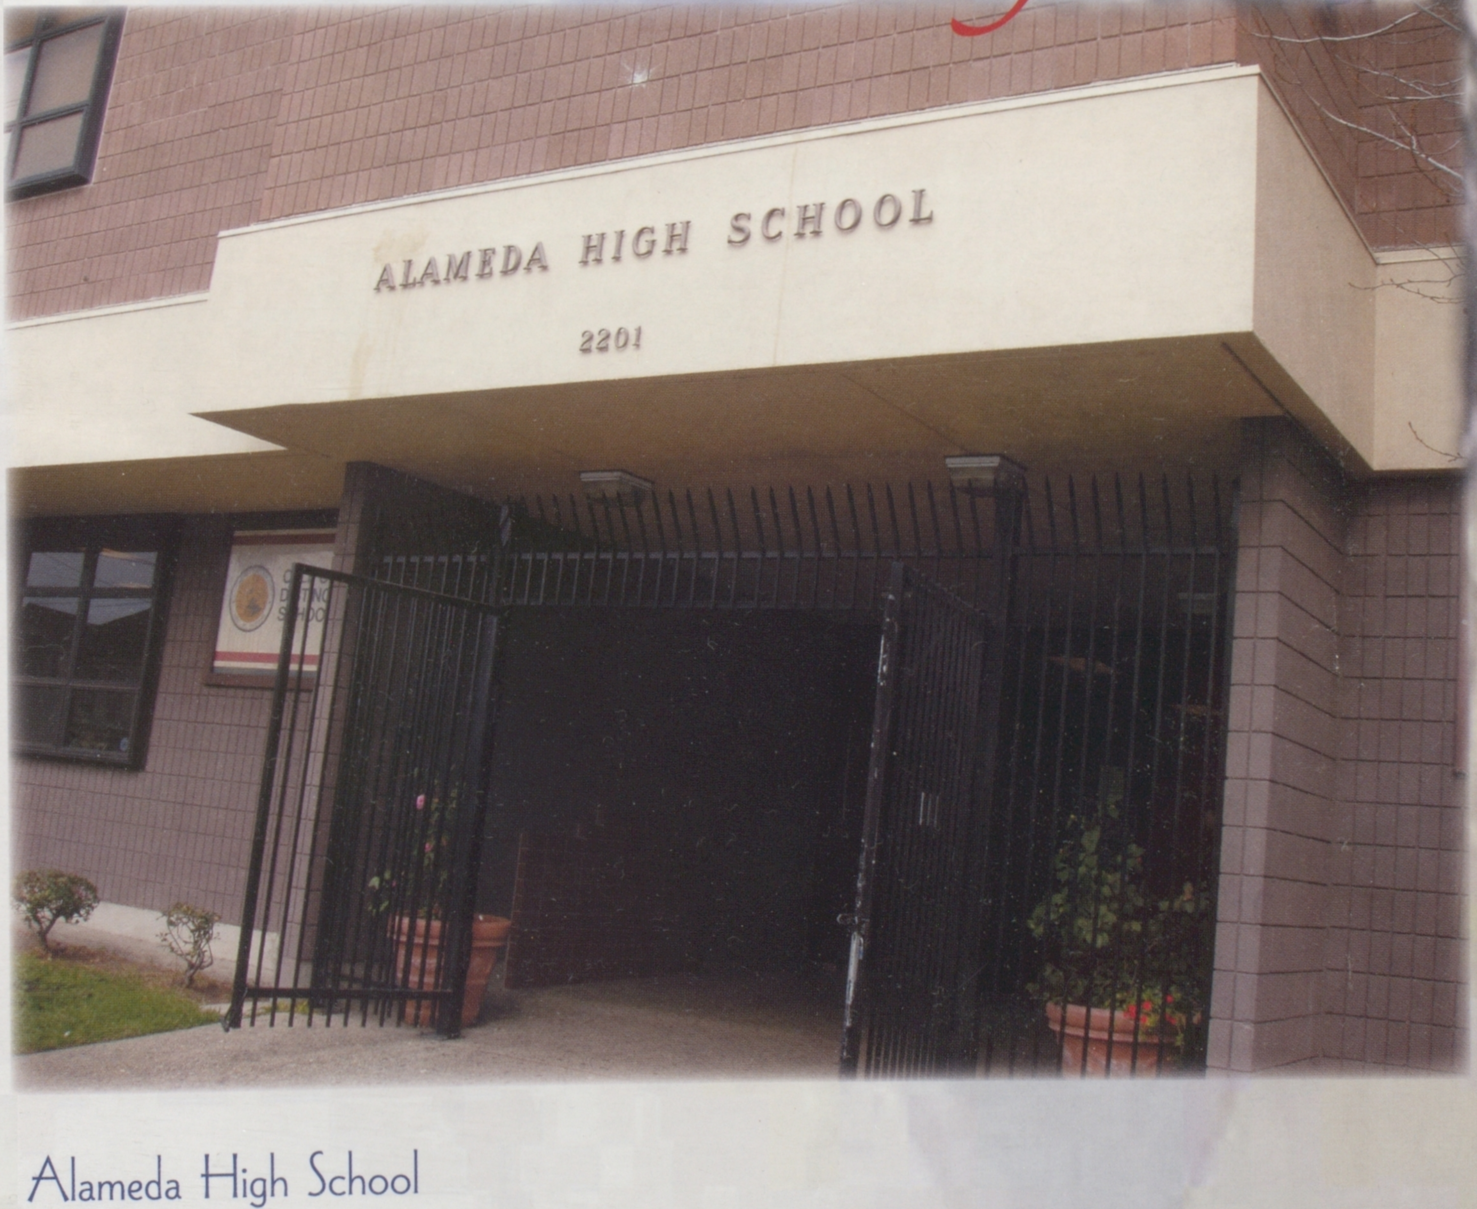
The Journey Begins

The Journey Begins. . . .



ALAMEDA HIGH SCHOOL
2201

Alameda High School
2201 Encinal Avenue
Alameda, California 94501
(510) 337-7022

Title Page
S. Tang, D. Wong

Left: Campus Supervisor Dimaano struts down the main hallway to make sure all the students get to class soon as possible.

Opening

Alameda High School is one of the most diverse schools in America; students here are able to experience and see every type of race, ethnicity, background, country and religion from all over the world. The broad mix of people is what makes Almeda High so wonderful.

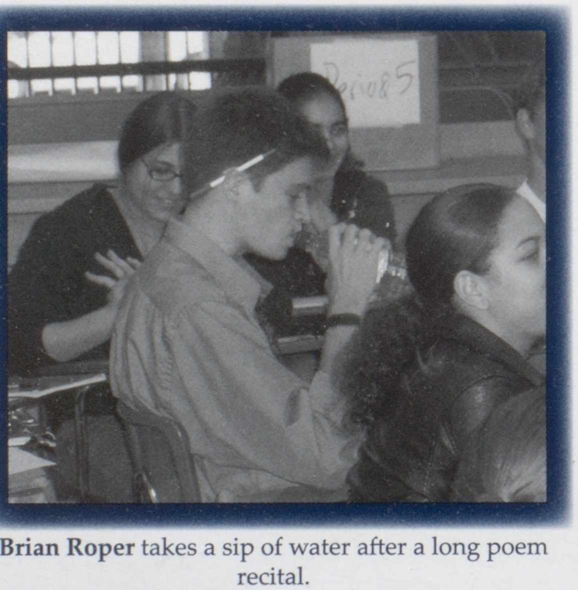
Expressions of the Mind



Brian Roper takes a sip of water after a long poem recital.

What do you like most about English?

I like the fact that we're always improving our writing.
- Miguel Castro

Studying Shakespeare.
- Julia Tagliarini

English teachers watch over their students like hawks.

Ed Musngi cheers his fellow students on.

Herberth Rodriguez and Jo-J Laam enjoy some silent reading.

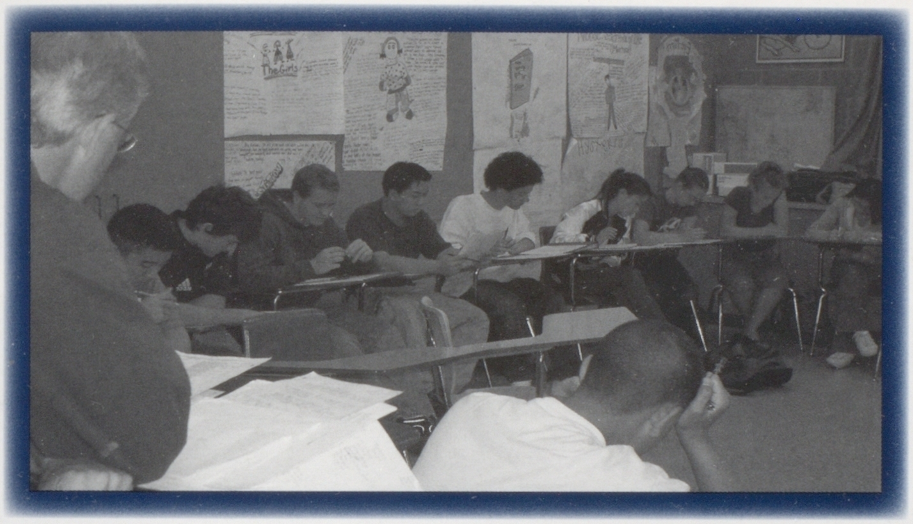
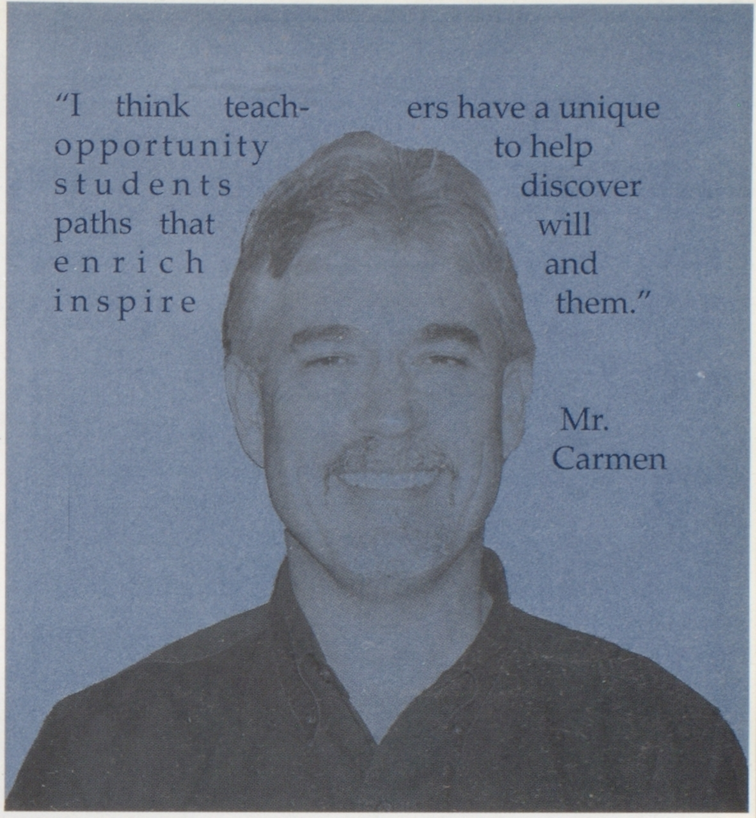
Students Lizzy Breitkopf, Sarah Frankel, Julia Corlett, Lisa Alway, Leah Herras, and Madison Worthy from Mr. Stein's class act out a scene from the story House on Mango Street.



English is probably the most intellectually intense class there is. It requires you to think, analyze, and enunciate, forcing you to use your mind to the fullest.

A guest speaker from an organization called Youth Speaks drops by to teach Mr. Blaber's class about the art of poetry.



"I think teachers have a unique opportunity to help students discover paths that will enrich and inspire them."

Mr. Carmen

We are free to find our own way
Over rocks-- through the trees--
Where there are no trails. The ridge and the forest
Present themselves to our eyes and feet
Which decide for themselves
In their old learned wisdom of doing
Where the wild will take us. We have
Been here before...

From "Off the Trail" by Gary Snyder

Madison Worthy performs a part from House on Mango Street.

Graphing the Points of the Earth

Tim Holgerson, Junior, looks at his math paper to see which problem is wrong.

Freshman, Daniel Roberts, has a blast in his math class.

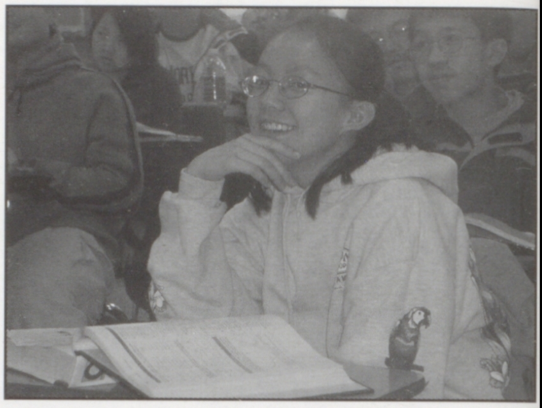
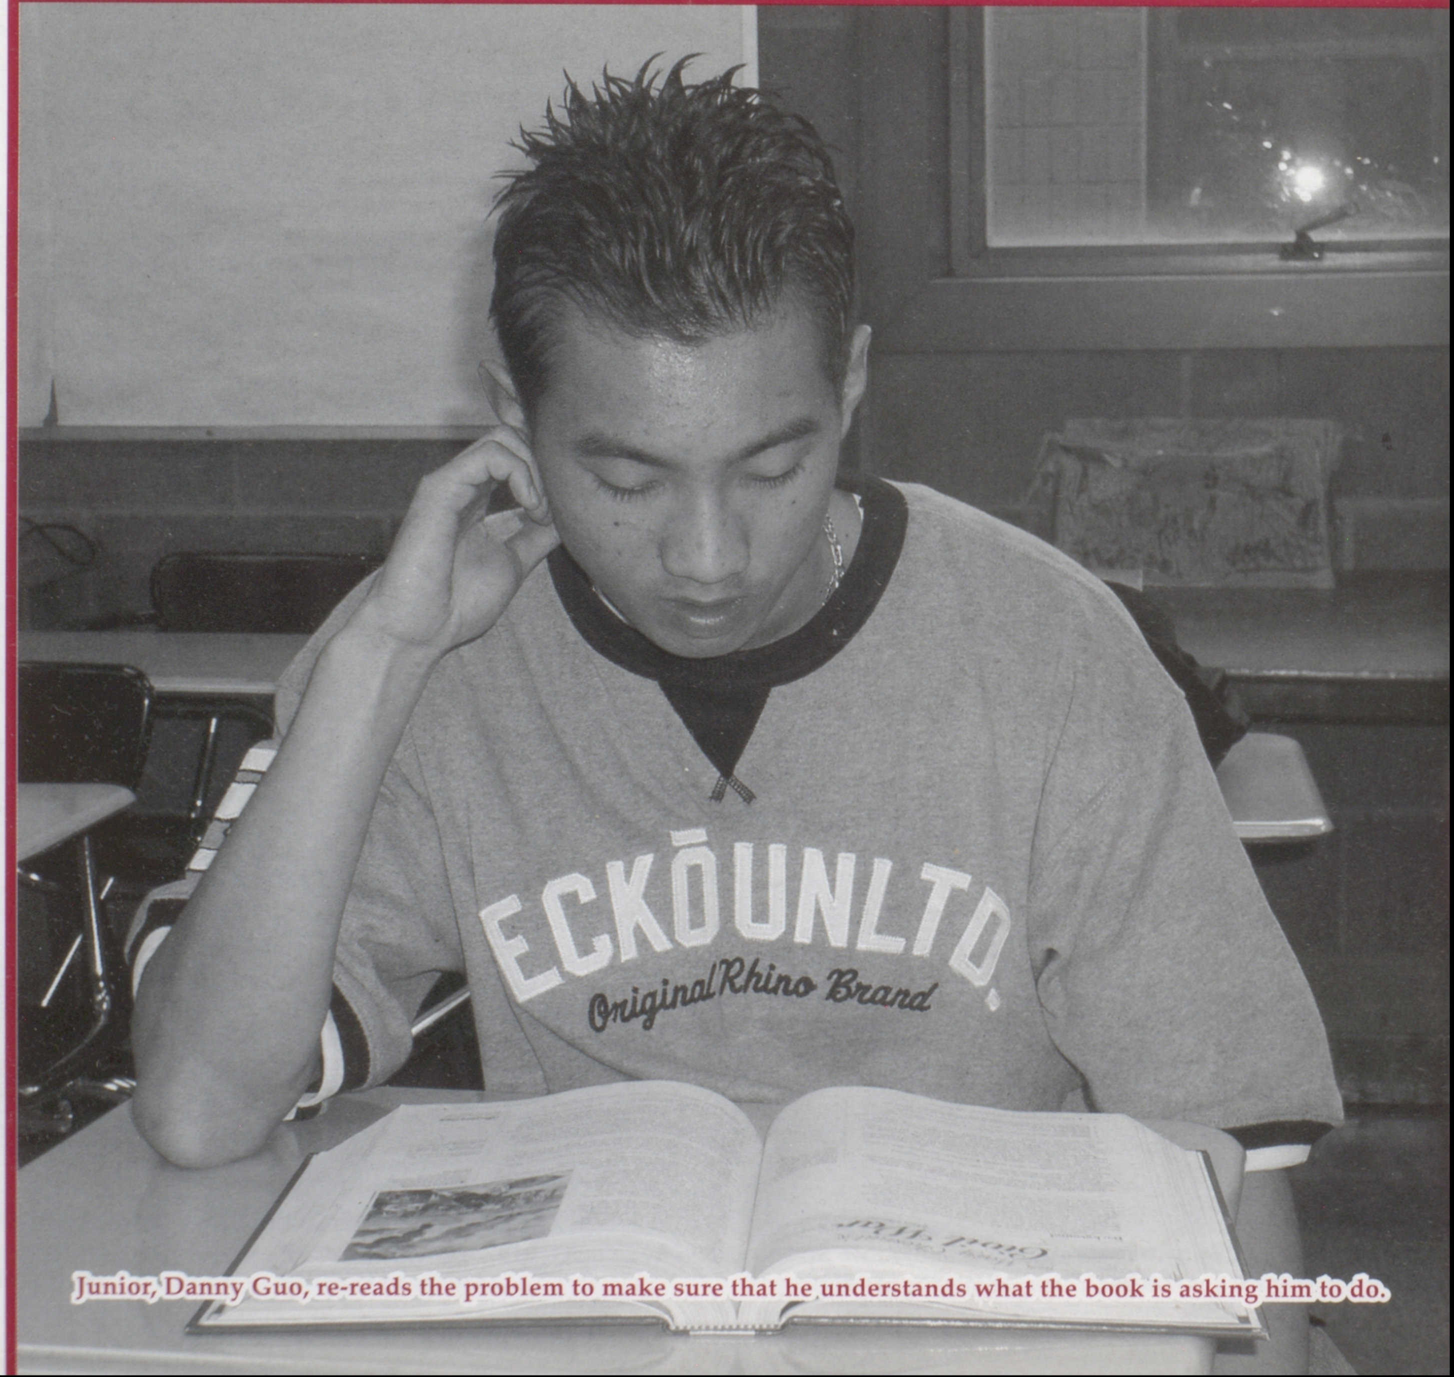
Will Collins, Senior, quietly takes Algebra 2 notes on a stultifyingly hot day.



Aimee Low, Senior , tries to pay attention to the teacher's intruction for the class.



Junior, Danny Guo, re-reads the problem to make sure that he understands what the book is asking him to do.

Could Galileo or Copernicus have discovered that the Earth was not the center of the universe without some math and a little imagination? Ms. Kyle tells us that "imagination is the highest kite we can fly." We all use imagination at least one time per day, so this quote is one of the most useful for our lives.

Senior, Travis Oducayen, asks his neighbor a quick question so that he can understand the given problem.

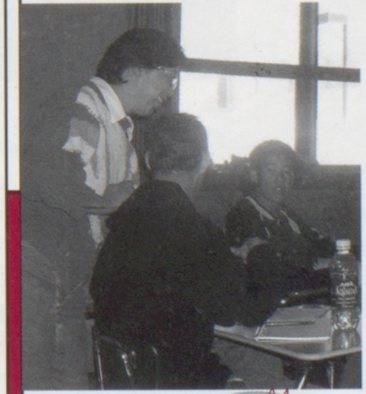
Chase Currier, Junior, looks around while he finishes his classwork.



Dylan Kiyomura, Senior, listens to Ms. Quan while she gives a math problem to his neighbor.

What is your favorite part about math?

"Math - gotta learn it, gotta love it."

--Anh Nguyen, Junior

"Knowing that all of the math teachers are willing to give up their time to help me understand the material."

--Brian Lowe, Sophomore

Unrolling the Scrolls of Time

Senior, William Richeson starts off his court case by reciting his opening statement.

Senior, Vincent Leung ponders deeply the Government presentation before him.

Senior, Irman Turanovic gives his undivided attention to learn about the Imperial presidency.

What do you enjoy about History?

"I get to experience and view Government in adult point of view."
- Sarah Cheong, Senior

"Learning about the past, it is important and enjoyable."
- Jeff Ma, Sophomore

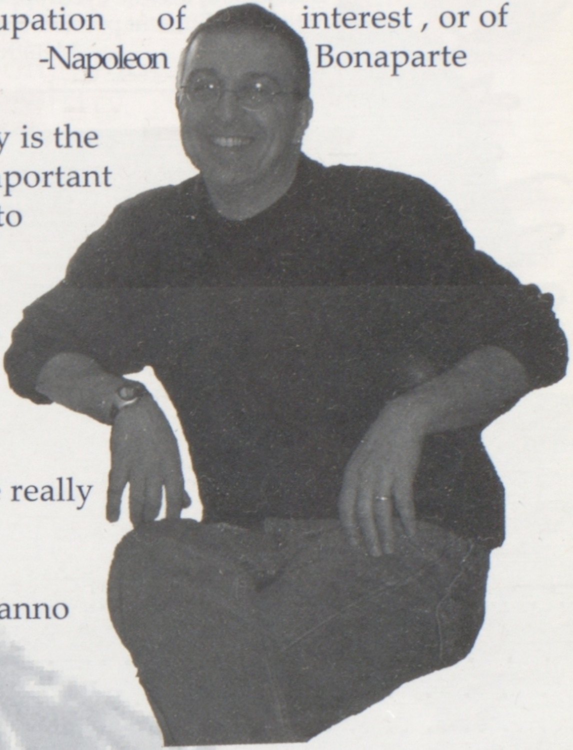
Mr. Caziarc is armed and ready to begin teaching his fellow historians.

Senior, Micheal Kwan listens and examines the case presented before him.

Sophomore, Anh Le reads about Baron Montesquieu on human nature.

"To write history one must be more than a man, since the author who holds the pen of this great justiciary should be free from all pre-occupation of interest, or of vanity." -Napoleon Bonaparte



"History is the most important subject to study. This is because history tells us about who we really are."

- Mr. Manno

Senior, Jillian Zarifis reads the governement case handout, that she had just received for her trial.

Senior, Jessica Lee looks through her notes for her case, before she approches the podium.

Senior, Rachel Brockl sits up straight with the confidence of winning her case.

Dissecting the World

SPRING
BALANCE

Aubree Wai brilliantly demonstrates elasticity on a spring scale to fellow Junior Diana Zhong in AP Physics.

Huong Nguyen and Lena Lim, Juniors, show off their ecosystems.

Cassie Odom-Louis, c/o '07, writes out her Biology notes.

[Below] Making sure that he does not contaminate the chemicals, Tony Fang, c/o 2005, keeps his eye dropper off of the plastic wrap in Mr. Hardin's Chemistry class.

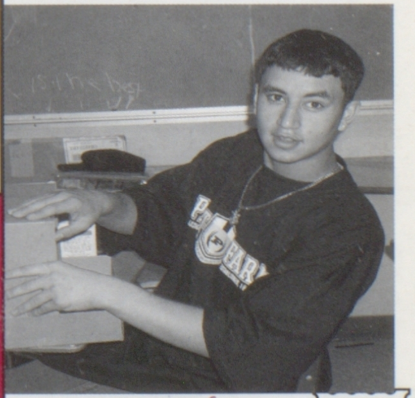
I am inspired by my kids...All 180 of them...I never know who I may inspire in return!
--Ms. Wong, Biology and Chemistry teacher

Seniors Sarah Cheong and Jessica Panagakis-Maritz color a nerve cell in Physiology class.

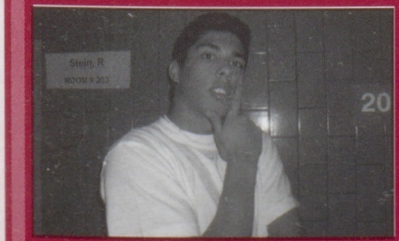
Concentration is studious Sophomore Justin Wong's key element in the metathesis lab in Honors Chemistry.

Seniors Jennifer Steiner and Angela Little do a terrific presentation of their contained ecosystem in Environmental Science.

Senior, Joseph Wolosky shows off his diorama in Enivironmental Science.



What do you see in the future of science?



"People will become lazy because technology will do everything for them"

-Senior Travis Oducayen

"I see underwater houses, cars, and human life."

-Freshman Katie Coreno

International Sports

Demonstrated by Sophomore David Cho, everyone nowadays can do the Marilyn. This stretch is inspired by one of the most famous media icons of her time, Marilyn Monroe.

As the class goes for a stroll, friends chat, and often conplain about the tiring events of the day as they head into the locker rooms.

Michelle Aceves looks great while running and chatting with her friends, and getting a great workout at the same time.

Freshmen Maureen Mitchell and Tayna Ochoa take a break and walk before they have to start running again.

E. Hayes, A. Mitchell

What does judo do for you?

"It's something else to do and another type of marshal art."

- Sophomore Tim Shipovsky

"We like to kick butt and it makes us feel more secure ."

- Juniors Olivia Quan and Michele Lin.

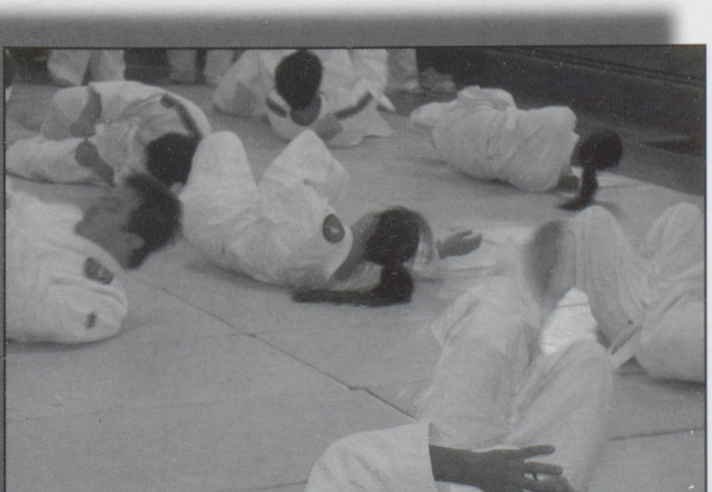
Mr. Quinonez says that Judo "Centers your focus on what is truly important in life: Balance." Speaking of balance, Mr Quinonez balances Judo, Math, and his family during the school year and does a great job! He has great equilibrium.

It looks like they're bustin' a move but they're really doing a Judo exersie.



This daily rountine is an important part of the Judo process.

Jalen Yeung demonstrates yet another step in the Judo routine.

Sophomore Charlie Wilton tucks and rolls for safety.

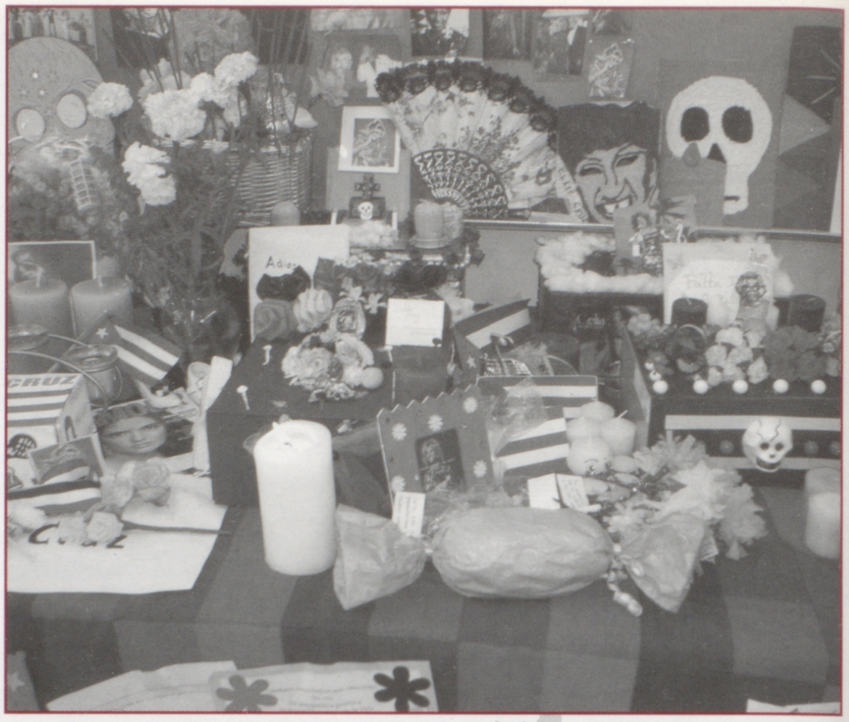
P.E.
E. Hayes, A. Mitchell

Bon Voyage

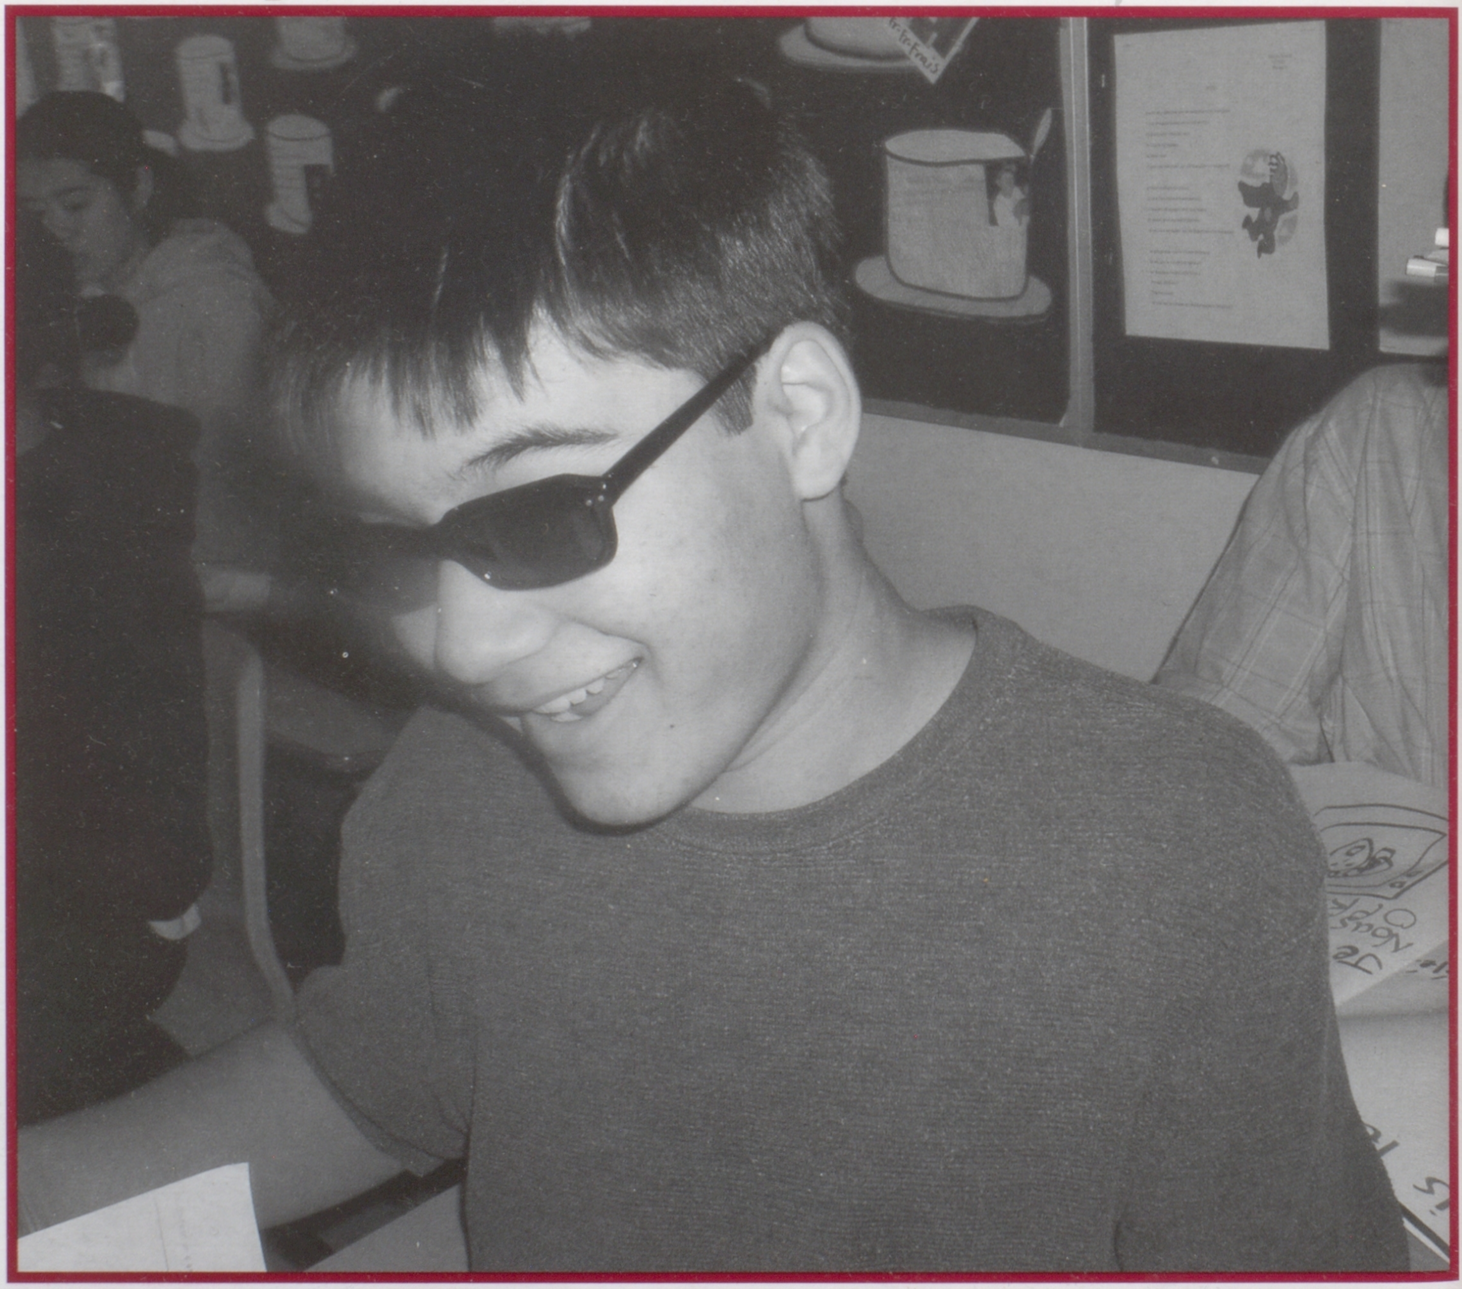
Senoir, Paulyn Sali, practices free speech with a partner in French.

While watching a movie, students seem to be focused and alert.

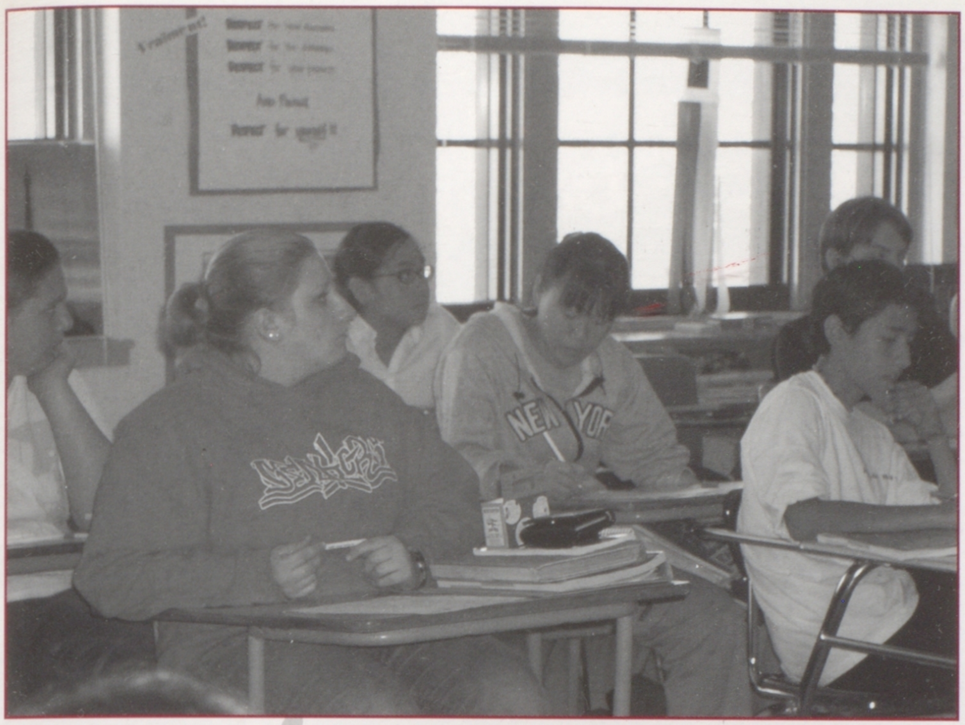
Ms. LaBarre instructs her students on the most romantic language, French.



The Day of the Dead celebrates loved ones that have passed away, and everyone appreciates all of the decorations that are displayed throughout all the Spanish classes.



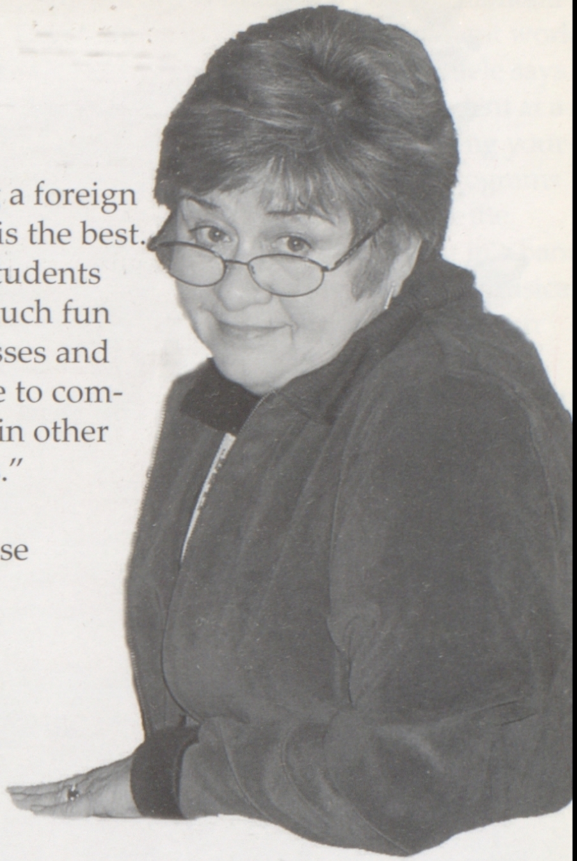
Alex Pearl looks good when he goes to French, as you see he is sporting his dark shades!

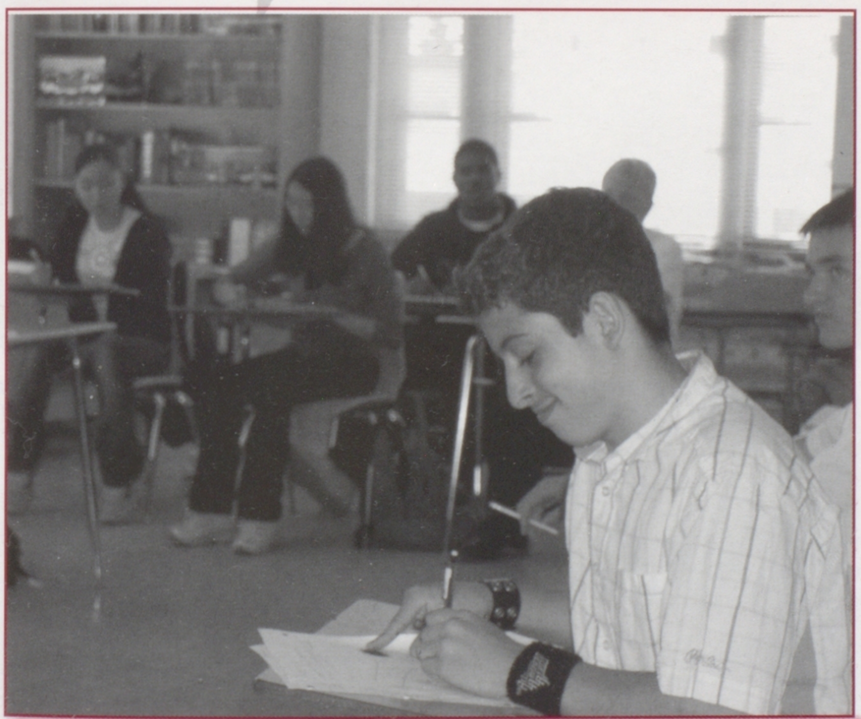


Gracie Crawford and classmates look at the overhead to gain better understanding.

“Teaching a foreign language is the best. Because students have so much fun in our classes and the chance to communicate in other languages.”

- Sra. Rose





Gabriel Andrade does his work in a rather happy mood with a small smile on his face.

Why do you like foreign language?

"I am learning something new and it's fun! Also we don't sit all day."

-Cassi Rayford

"I like the language."

-Demetric jones

Sophomore Mikhaila Rutherford copies down important information that might be valuable to the class in the near future.

Junoir, Diana Tran,works hard to finish her french work before the bell rings

Lost in the Music

Guitarists Julian Steele, Mu-Hua Cheng, and Craig Hosang in Jazz Band practice their techniques during class.

The sounds of Zach Best, Eric Asuncion, and Alex Kendall, with their trumpets, can be heard from down the hall with these talented musicians playing.

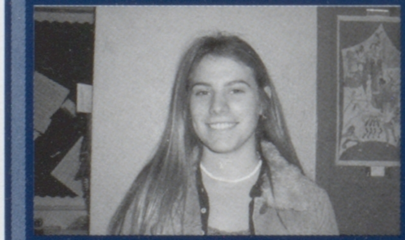
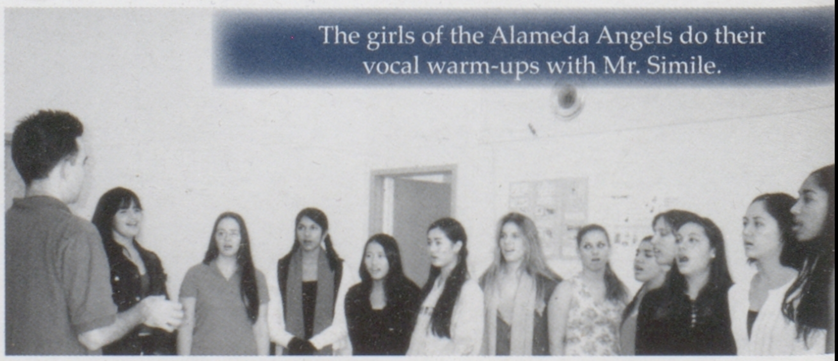
What's your favorite aspect about the music dept?



"I love how this is a small class because we get to know each other like a family."
- Taryn Aguiar

"I love the singing and dancing."
- Schyler Baker



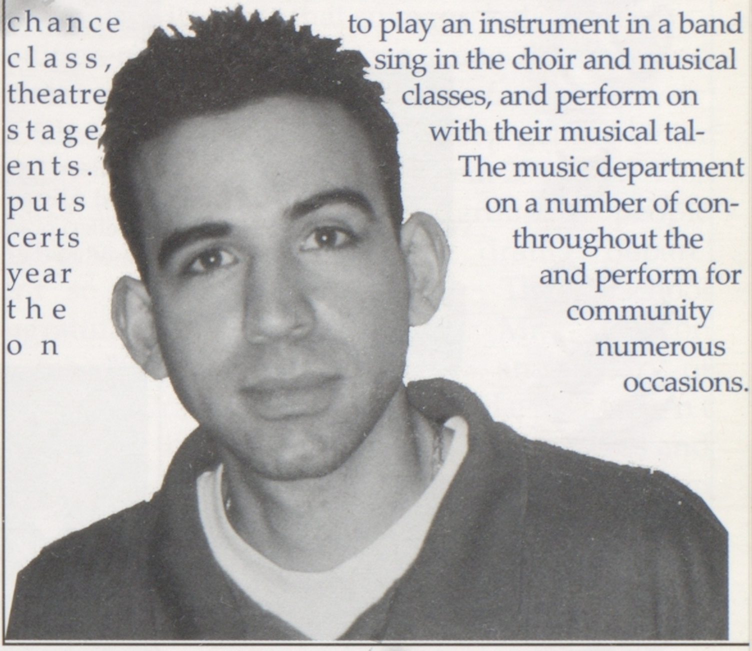
The girls of the Alameda Angels do their vocal warm-ups with Mr. Simile.

Band, Choir
M. Sum, D. Guzman

Seniors Theresa Chan and Connie Ng focus on perfecting their notes on the clarinets.

The young men in choir warm up their voices before they sing their hearts out.

The Music Department is a very unique part of Alameda High School. The students in the Music Department work very hard and are led by Joseph Simiele. Mr. Simiele says that music is a way of "Saving the world one student at a time ." There are many different ways of expressing yourself through music and Alameda High's music programs offer many different opportunities. Students have the chance to play an instrument in a band class, sing in the choir and musical theatre classes, and perform on stage with their musical talents. The music department puts on a number of concerts throughout the year and perform for the community on numerous occasions.



Mr. Simile helps his choir students prepare for their annual winter concert that they perform for the school and the community.

Sophomores Kimberly Wong, Katie Atkinson, and Eva Hansson concentrate on reading the music notes.

Sophomore Daniel Wright and Junior Daniel Brownson play their trombones with the rest of the symphonic band's magical sounds.

All the World's a Stage

Lights, camera, ACTION! Allison Orzell (Helen Keller) and Claire Slattery (Anne Sullivan) act out this sequence.

Allison Lazar (Kate Keller) and Allison Orzell (Helen Keller) practive their mother-daughter acting.

Allison Lazar and Claire Onyett are discussing their next scene.

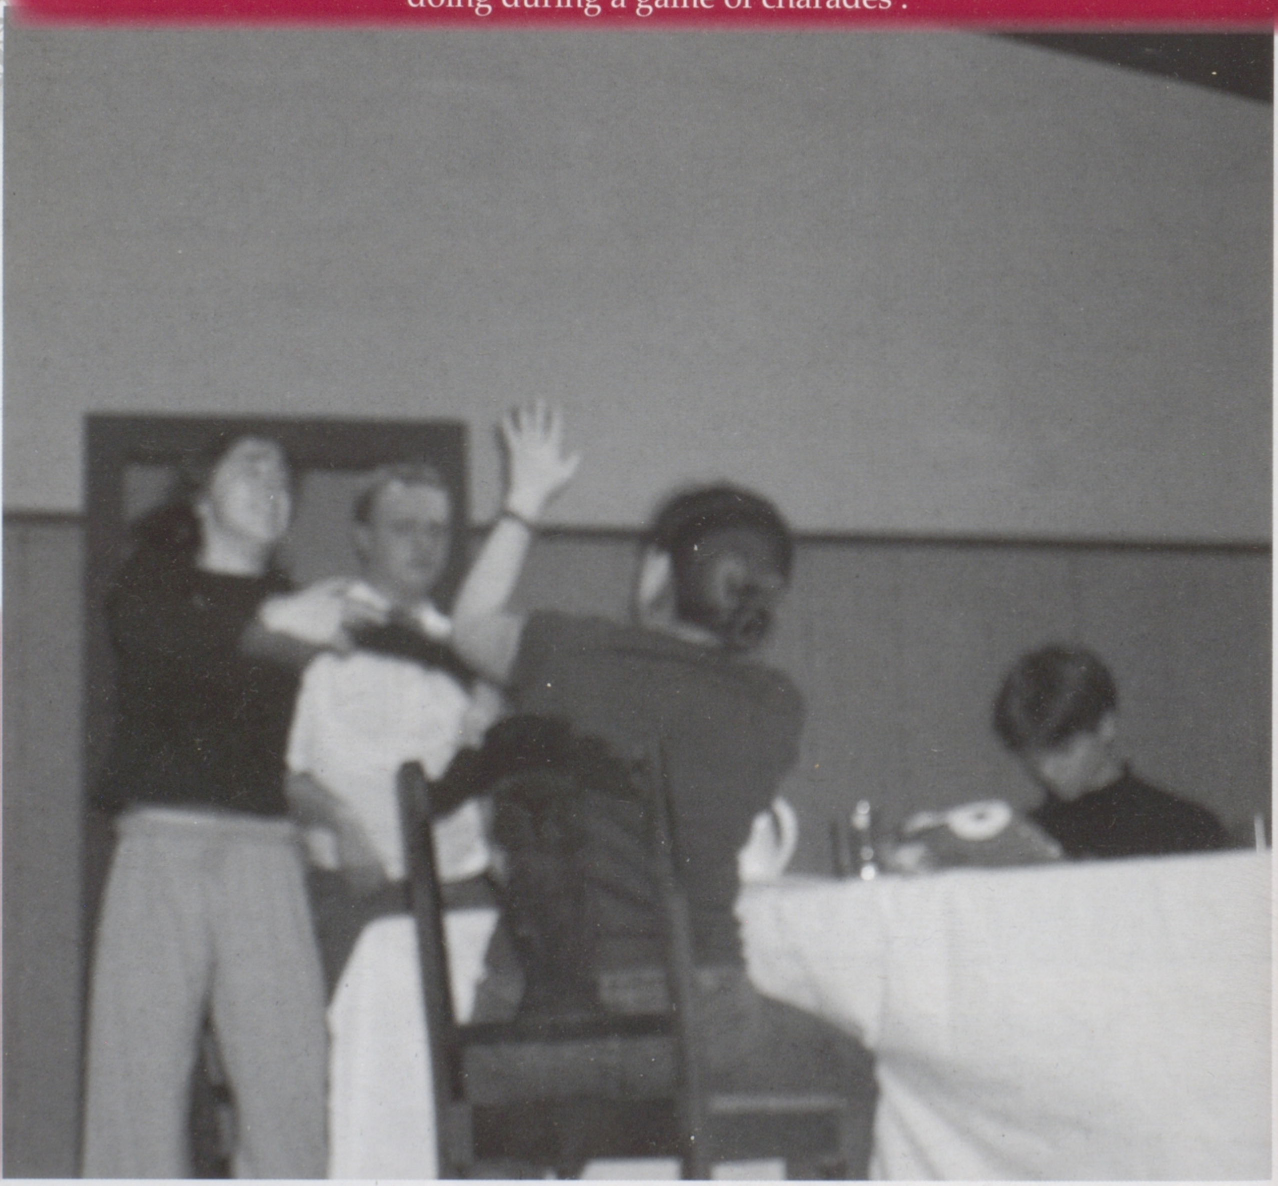
"What is this?" Tom Bevilacqua seems to say as he shines his light upon stage.

The fifth period Drama I class is guessing what their classmates onstage are doing during a game of charades .



The play that is featured in this page is "The Miracle Worker." The cast of this spactactular show worked on it throughout the first and second quarters of the school year. This play is based on the life of a blind and deaf child, Helen Keller. This small cast of very talented students worked very hard during the sixth period Drama 3 class and late night rehearsls. The show sold out all three nights and was a complete success. This play gave the students a chance to perform on stage in front of a live audience and provide a reason for the Alameda community to get involved with and help support their local school.

Kayce Landaeta and Jake Groth are helping create the little theatre's stage for the upcoming play.

Allison Lazar holds young "Helen Keller"

Mr. Chacon, or "Fred" as his students call him, has been the drama teacher here at Alameda High for 20 years, during which he has directed many popular musicals and plays including Grease, West Side Story, and Annie. The winter play this year is The Miracle Worker. The great thing about the AHS Drama Department is that so many kids from all different backgrounds can come together and perform as one. They become like a family. As Mr. Chacon says, "The students keep getting better and better. It's been a great 20 years." This diverse and talented group of people is what makes our drama department so special. The school congratulates Mr. Chacon on his 20 year anniversary of leading the Drama department and making it a true success and an amazing program for all students.

Claire Slattery, Allison Lazar, and Allison Orzell perfect their acting.

Claire Slattery, and Tom Bevilacqua, watch as Allison Orzell lies down on the floor.

Freshman Lulu Wang is concentrating on her artwork, trying to create her own beauty.

Freshmen Oliva Dittmore, Monica Pieroni, and Jacqueline Gordon perform for their class the new choreography they thought of to a Britney Spears song.

Freshman Shannon DuPont and Sophomore Tristan Jazmin are actively thinking to conjure up something beautiful for their painting.

Why do you enjoy taking Art and Dance?

"In kindergarten, I drew a frog, it was the beginning of my interest in art."

-Zheng Cheung, '05

"Learning dances choreographed by the students."

-Ariana Mah, '07

Keeping it safe and fun, Freshman Samantha Houston and Senior Angelita Manown prepare to get their groove on by stretching out their muscles.

Art and Dance are some of the most popular forms of art. Every brush stroke or pirouette can inspire feeling, all forms of art are different ways to express one's thoughts and emotions. Each piece of work tells a different story and some believe that creating a piece of art is a way to connect their feelings to everyday life. As Ms. Gill says, "Dance is an incredible discipline in which art and athletics merge. To dance is to fly." These ways of expressing ourselves can be very exhilarating and can also help relieve stress.

Sophomores Ahlam Abdel Latif, Candice Corgile and Junior Jenna Kopel dance day away to a groovy 70's tune.

Freshman Natasha Flores hopes to get high marks on her latest work of art from her tough art teacher.

Sophomore Hong Zhang works diligently so that maybe the teacher will choose to put his masterpiece up on the wall for everyone to admire.

Sophomores Briana Desboine and Jazmine Robertson and Juniors Diana Tran and Vanessa Saldana and Freshman Stephanie Lim shake their tail feathers to a rhythmic beat.

Senior Angelita Manown and Junior Vanessa Saldana move to the strong beat.

Media in Action

Sociable Sophomore Kim Baker flashes a beautiful white smile after dilligently rehearsing for a presentation in her Modern World History class.

The Media Academy is a school within the school. Students take a core class of English and Social Science. Students do Powerpoint presentations, interactive group work, visuals, and context enriching strategies as well as media electives. With an emphasis on critical reading and discussions, essay tests, thesis papers, and study habits for college. The idea is to use technology to aide in learning.

What was your most memorable moment in the Media Academy?

"At the Media Academy break fast, when Ms. Turpin mispronounced 'floppy disks.'"
-Senior Raychel Cooke

"When the ambulance came by, and Mr. Manno said 'Whoops, there's my ride!'"
-Senior Austin Wagner-Cannon

"You're so funny!" Senior Jessa Panagakis laughs as Senior Justin Sibley makes a face.

Oak Leaf

Journalism. . .

. . . a class where the best of the best work together to produce our very own newspaper, the Oak Leaf. Here they learn various techniques such as gathering information, conducting interviews, and writing articles. Students in this class also need to learn the technical skills necessary in constructing the paper. The students of journalism work hard to make sure that the Oak Leaf contains all the elements essential to a well constructed newspaper. Every month they work to keep us informed on current events, have the students' opinions expressed and to publish this public forum for all the Alameda High School community.

Kathryn Fong, Jenny Gant and Mina Kwan team up to brainstorm ideas.

Kyle Moore and Jay Sutter quickly get started on an interview during class.

Behind the Scenes

Journalism is a busy place where everybody works hard to contribute their fair share to the newspaper. They organize the entire newspaper and do everything from articles to paste-up, and some other things we didn't even know they worked on.

Jessica Vaughan and Amy Beylerian go out to quote two students for the articles they are writing.

Alexa Martinez tells us she gets her ideas from everywhere, just life in general, as she types up her piece of writing.

I like this class for two reasons:

For the students, it is rewarding to have a tangible product -- the newspaper -- to show for all their time and effort, for myself, I like getting to know my students much better because this class requires that we spend so much time together. Journalism kids tend to be really interesting, funny folks.

Sophomore Nancy Liu gives her undivided attention to hear about the "We Share" project.

The leadership group shows teamwork by discussing their ideas for our school.

<~~~ Leadership students work together to put up posters inform the student body of the upcoming once-in-a-lifetime events.

...leaders are people who are able to express themselves fully...they know who they are, what their strengths and weaknesses are, and how to fully deploy their strengths and compensate for their weaknesses. They also know what they want, why they want it, and how to communicate what they want to others, in order to gain compensation and support. Finally, they know how to achieve their goals. The key to full self-expression is understanding one's self and the world, and the key to understanding is learning--from one's own life and experience.

Cruising in

Going to school is a must, and every student must arrive somehow, whether they drive, walk, skate, ride bikes, get a ride, or take the bus. Different teachers and students all have different forms of transportation. There are a variety of unique cars that some possess, and some just enjoy the simplicity of walking and getting exercise. Although Alameda is a relatively small town, everyone has their ways to get around and out of town. The public bus lines are reliable and accessible, and it is a prime source of transportation for many Alamedans. Cruising through A-Town is always fun no matter how you get around!

Several students line up to take the 631 bus home.

We all know that many AHS students look forward to their summer vacation as an opportunity to get out of Alameda and explore the many places around them. Summer vacation to some can mean a time of resting, playing sports, traveling, making some cash, or just hanging out. While some enjoy their summer and never want it to end, there are others that can't wait to go back to school and see some of their friends and catch up, show off their new outfits, or even to see their secret crushes. Whether you are staying in Alameda this summer or walking the beaches of Maui, get ready Hornets and PACK YOUR BAGS!

Seniors Allison Kane and Darah Wagner enjoy the lovely Hawaiian sunset on the beautiful beach of Maui.

Appealing

The changing fads of Alameda High keep everyone on his or her toes. With styles ranging from punk to prep, the taste of each student varies widely. Popular stores such as Hot Topic, Pac Sun, and Abercrombie and Fitch grab different people's eyes, depending on their taste in clothes or accessories. Cellular phones are must-haves for much of the student body, so with such a wide selection of service providers and mobile companies, there is a large variety in models and quality of service. The ever-growing love of "room wares" from stores like Ikea and Pottery Barn are a great way to express individuality in one's room. Reality shows like The Bachelor or teen dramas like The OC entertain and help us de-stress after a hard day at school. Just by walking down the halls and looking at the clothes each person wears, you can easily tell that no two persons' tastes or styles are exactly the same.

Once a year, Alameda High prepares for the most anticipated event of the year.The school dedicates an entire week to Homecoming events. This years Homecoming theme was Hornets House Party. The student body kicked it all off with a spirited assembly on Monday. Each class arrived spiritedly dressed in their class colors. This years spirit days were Class Color Day, Sports Day, Generations Day, Superhero Day and lastly Gold and White Day. On the day of the Big Game, the students were decked out in their Gold and White. The Hornets crushed DeAnza later that night. During halftime each class showed off their floats and the entire Homecoming court rode around the track in convertables. On Saturday night, the school hosted their annual Homecoming dance.

Tips For Working Out

Keep in mind these suggestions when beginning an exercise regimen:
1. be realistic
2. evalutate your progress
3. choose activities you enjoy
4. select a good time to exercise

When exercising, experts believe that the following tips will help reduce the chance of injury:
1. The three stages of a good, safe workout includes a warm up, workout, and cool down.
2. Warm up and stretch before working out.
3. A warm up consists of a muscle warm up, stretching, and a heart warm up.
4. All stretches should be held for a minimum of 30 seconds.
5. When stretching, do not bounce, jerk, or try to stretch too far.

Staying fit is something that almost everyone at Alameda High strives for. All students must take P.E., which is only required for two years, inconsistently nine months at a time, for only five hours per week. Many students take time out of their busy schedules to tighten and tone their muscles, while still balancing schoolwork and social lives. Every body is different so there are a variety of workouts. Some popular workout routines that are not very time-consuming include running and weight-lifting. For the health-conscious eater, the number of vegetarians and people who are selective about which meats they eat has begun to grow and make us all a little more conscious of what we are eating.

Stacey Fong, c/o '06, stretches her muscles before and after her daily run.

Sound Bites

Every year at Alameda High, students busy themselves with the usual teenage angst: What will I wear? I have to shop at all the right places; god forbid I be a fashion reject! What will I do this weekend? There's NOWHERE to hang out in Alameda; maybe I'll just lie in bed and watch cartoons. Did my parents really watch Scooby Doo? And then there's that guy/girl I like -- does he/she like me? How will I survive if he/she doesn't? What will I do after I graduate? After all, I can't wait to get out of here, but . . . what will I do with myself?
We polled some of the Hornets and here's what they say!

H. Kindrachuk smiles with spirit.

S. Hoang 10, has a lot of spirit.

H. Armijo 10, has happy spirit.

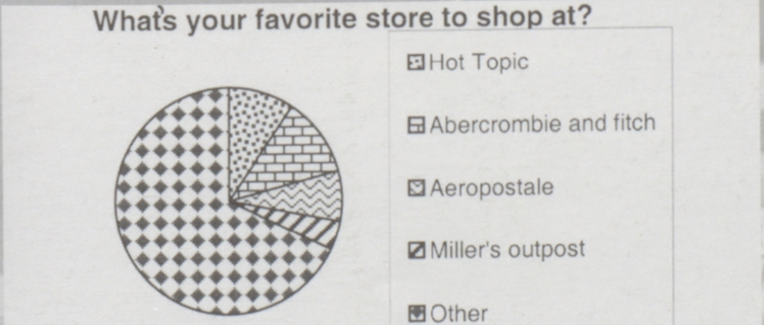
Ms. Sherratt is happy to be a spirited and a great principal.

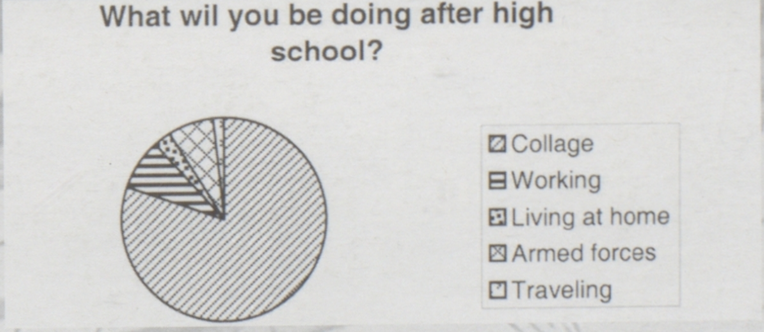
Ms. Rolleri loves to collect Hornets memorobilia.

Ms. Falletti is happy to work at a computer and to be a Alameda High Hornet.

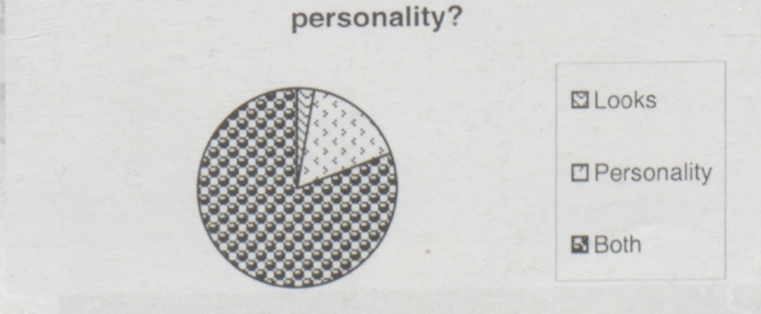
Ms.Stahl is holding a Hornet for spirit day and happy to be spirited



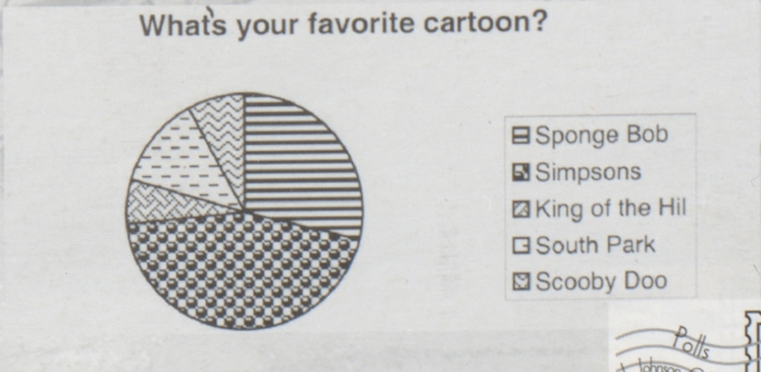
What's your favorite store to shop at?



What wil you be doing after high school?



Do you base your crush on looks or personality?



What's your favorite cartoon?

In Spare

We all know where we need to be from 8:00am to 2:55pm Monday through Friday, but we definitely need a break from all of the homework, tests and projects. Our holiday breaks and weekends are the time to cut loose, relax and have an overall good time. The great thing about our breaks and weekends is that there are so many different things that we can do to enjoy and make the most out of our time away from school.

Seniors Danny Guzman, Whitney Duncanson, Sarah Hallford, Sophomore Taryn Aguiar, and Seniors Natalie Jucuzzi and Bobby Rather enjoy a gorgeous Saturday at Six Flags Marine World.

What do you enjoy doing during breaks?

"I make reality TV Shows."
~Austin Wagner-Cannon, 12

"We sing karaoke and play DDR."
~Michelle Ng and Brian Kim, 12

"I play Madden 2000."
~Tavis Vee, 12

Seniors Ashley Harley and Martha Silver leave school quickly to anticipate having a fun and exciting weekend with their friends.

Senior Ally Shelden prepares for a very festive winter break as she decorates her front yard with a giant inflatable polar bear and cub.

Break Weekends

Moments...

Senior Julia Tagliarini and Freshman Nick Tagliarini share a sister-brother moment, sipping milkshakes at Nation's in Alameda.

Juniors Valerie Popelka and Michelle Grote are sitting at Nation's, enjoying their burgers and sodas while chatting with their friends late on a Friday night.

Seniors Rizza Hosain and Jennifer Steiner continue to have fun during their free time after Winter Ball.

Senior Janie Thompson will be quite angry if something interrupts her much needed, relaxing weekend sleep.

People

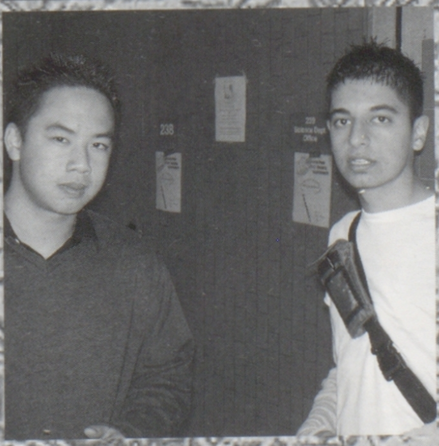
Right: Juniors Will Lau and Farhatullah Noori are surpirsed when we take a picture of them while they roam the hallways.



Finding people can be difficult in a school of nearly 1800 students. The people section helps indentify who's who and the activites that are done throughout the years. Flip through, and find that special someone, and enjoy.

Their A

Have you ever wondered where the counselors and administratiors ancestors originated from? Well we asked the questions and we got the answers...

Mrs. Sherratt's maternal grandparents are from England. Her mother came from nine children including herself, while her father was an only child. Her mother has seven brothers, five of which are half brothers, and one twelve-year younger sister. Her mother did a lot of work around the house when she was younger, like washing the dishes by hand.

Mr. Rawlins has the same backround as the famous man, Adalai Stevenson who ran against JFK for president and at the time was the ambassador of the United Nations. When asked where he was from, Stevenson replied, "I'm a citizen of the universe."

Ms. Leher's father's side are Eastern European Jews. His ancestors left Europe in the early 1900's to escape pogroms in Russia. Her great grandmother on her mother's side is French while her great grandfather was an Italian and the youngest of eight brothers including himself. Mrs. Leher's grandfather was in the army during the U.S occupation after World War One.

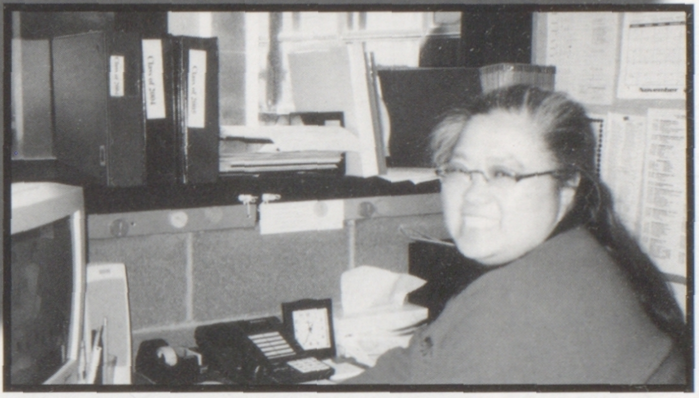
Our head counselor Mr. Maiers is from a three-generation German family. His great grandparents came from Germany to the U.S. for a better life and settled in Iowa and South Dakota to farm. Even though Mr. Maiers did not grow up in Germany he has had a chance to visit his cousins there.

Ms. Porter's father side originated from Sweden while her mother's side came from Germany. Both her grandfathers are immigrants from Sweden.



Ms. Loy originated from a big family of five sisters including herself. Her parents are from Southern China, and they both immigrated during their teenage years to come to the U.S.

Ms. Lauer's ancestors originated from Europe; Germany, England, France, and Holland. She is one of the daughters of the American Revolution from her dad's side, so her father's ancestors go back to the 1700's. Her mother's ancestors fought in the Civil War against the North side, and were mostly officers in the army.

Our new counselor Ms. Hoffmeister, who came to us after working at Encinal for three years, grew up in Germany until she came to the U.S. when she was 24.

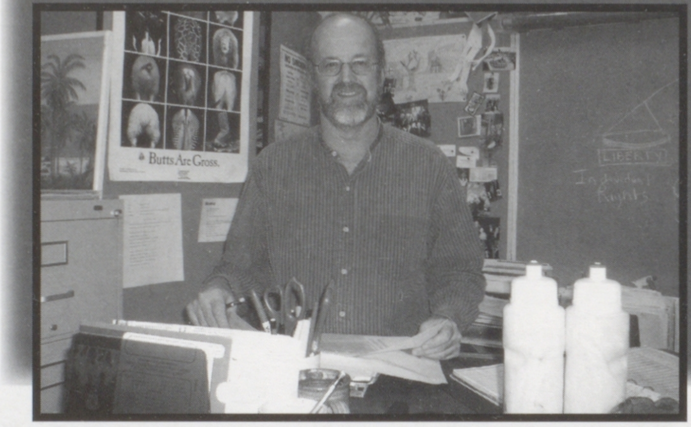
Teacher Travels

Have you ever been to places like Indonesia, or Australia? Would you believe that some of the teachers have gone to those places and more?...

Mr. Thomas went on a road trip after he got out of high school with one of his buddies. They drove all the way to New York, then flew from there to London, and backpacked through Europe for six weeks.



Butts Are Gross.

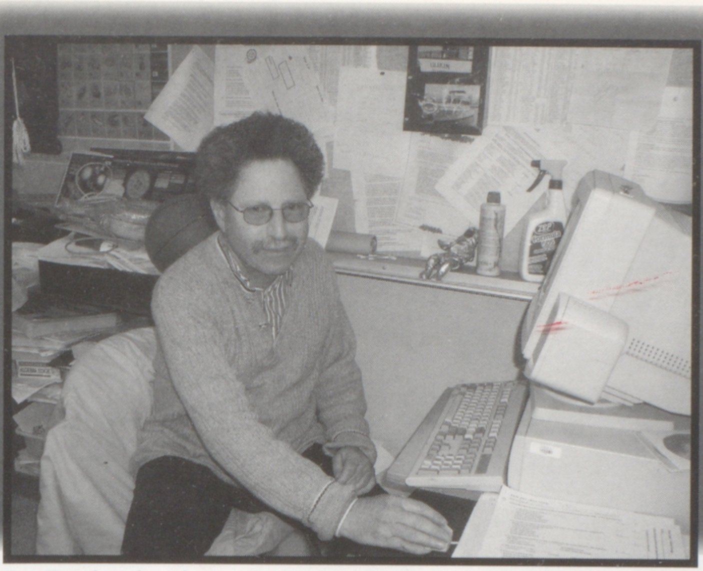
Mr. Caziarc traveled around the world for three years! He stayed in Indonesia for the longest and owned a clothing factory there. He hopes to go to Baja, Mexico.

Ms.Roemer lived in Turkey for two years, and has traveled to places like Trinidad where she celebrated carnival this year during our fall break.

Math teacher Mr. Lamb has been to 46 out of the 50 states, and has lived in 12. Some of his travels include going to Kenya and hot ballooning over Masi Mara and Seringetti. He even got to meet the famous Pierce Triezte in the out backs of Australia.

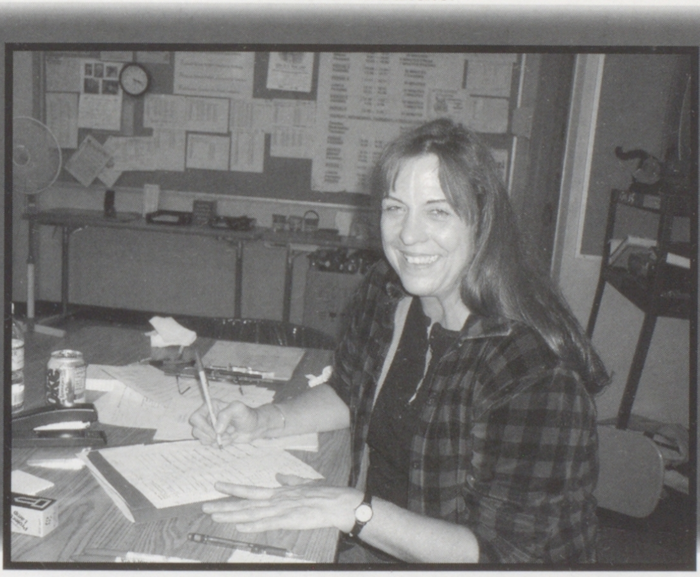
Ms. Saali has been to Canada where she enjoyed the views, ate, and shopped, and got to see Niagara Falls while staying in her first bed and breakfast. She has also been to Victoria, British Columbia where she got to drive down their beautiful windy roads and enjoy the scenery.

Ms. Dimanno, our campus supervisor, has traveled all around Europe, including Rome, her favorite. She also got to visit wonderful Cancun during spring break and see all of the teenagers go crazy.



Dr. Dauber has been to almost all the countries in Europe and spent 14 months there. He got to buy a car in Germany while he was there. He has also been to Florence, Balarian Islands, France, Iraq, India, Australia, and has even lived in Denmark. During some of his trips he got to film different documentaries and do a NATO postdoctoral fellowship at the Danish Space Research Institute.

Ms. Mariani has been to Tokyo for 17 days to watch her daughter perform in the west coast dance theatre. She also went to Denmark, Germany, and London for the Bay Oaks soccer team. She drove through Italy, 2,100 miles in 18 days, She says, "we were on the go!" She even owns a 1,700 year old church in Italy. She loves Italy and hopes to live there .



Ms. Sarvey has traveled to Australia in the outback while being a part of an archeological expedition. She recorded rock art sites and volunteered to be a part of a watch, digging for artifacts program. While over there she got lost, but fortunately she found a rock picture, so she recorded it down. After she told about what happened to her, they named that site after her so now there is a site in Australia named Robin. Ms. Sarvey said she enjoyed Australia a lot and would recommend it to anyone.

Mr. Gross has had the privilege of traveling to many different places with very diverse cultures. India was one of his most memorable trips because of the people he got to meet and how involved they were with their culture. He meet a tribe while he was there who was living like people did 12,000 years ago, and were very friendly. He took a house boat down back waters in the Kerela, and visited meditation ashrams.

In the 70's Mr. Boomer got to go to Death Valley during spring break with two bus loads of kids and took pictures of over 200 flowers. He also went camping at the National Park with some of his students.

Ms. Quan went to Hong Kong after she graduated from high school and got to experience an educational eye opener with the different people and their way of living.

H_2O Polo Women's Var.

H_2O Polo Women's Jv.

Waterpolo is a game where it is essential that you pay attention. You need to know where the ball is and when to get open so that your teammates don't get overwhelmed by the opposing team, who are always guarding players on your team.

Coach Heather Glendinning has been coaching waterpolo for four years. She wants to show the girls what kinds of opportunities waterpolo can bring them, and says the experiences they will receive in college is indescribable. For her, the best part about coaching are the girls. "They are the greatest team, the most fun to work with and hard workers." The worst? "It's hard when the team gets stuck and on a losing streak but it makes it that much more worth it to work harder." The team's hard work has really paid off and has made the Hornets proud. Overall, Coach Glendinning speaks positively about the team. She says, "They're great groups who show leadership and talent. They work hard but still know how to have fun."

What inspires Helen Park to play her hardest? "Just winning for the team, and showing the other schools who's boss. When a school sees our name, I want them to know who we are, not knowing us as some random school."

Nicole Burns makes her way down the pool while an opposing player follows closely behind.

I play waterpolo because I really love the water and the team is really a family.

-Heather Kindrachuck

Sophomore Amy Beylerian sprints up the field to assist her teammates. Amy has been on varsity since her Freshmen year.

What actvities does the team do to bond with each other?

WHEN YOU'RE ALL ALONE,
AND YOU NEED A FRIEND,
SOMEONE TO HELP YOU TO THE END,
WHEN YOU NEED SOMEONE TO CATCH YOU WHEN YOU FALL, I'LL BE THERE THROUGH IT ALL.

AND I'LL BE THERE THROUGH THE GOOD TIMES,
AND THE BAD,
AND WE'LL BE THERE FOR EACH OTHER,
CAUSE YOU'RE THE BEST FRIEND I'VE EVER HAD.

To My Seniors of 2004,

Everyone of you -- Marty, Saad, Fisher, Sunny, Edmond, Jo Jo, Zado, Thanh, Ming, Megan, Pak-Diddy, Anabella, Nga, Samson, Jason, Mike, Elson, Anh, Herberth, Whiner, Hiroshi, Veronica, and Andrew -- has made this year one heck of a ride! Your sense of humor made for a fun class and it was nice to look forward to laughing every afternoon. May the years treat you well, stay in touch, and bring me pictures of your children, OK?

Much love, Ms. Klinger

Yearbook Advisor

This year we began a new adventure in Yearbook as we launched InDesign, Adobe's latest publishing software. The year started out with puzzlement, confusion, and excitement as we learned the ropes of InDesign, but eventuually became comfortable with the basics. As time goes on, I know the Yearbook class will learn more and more of the advanced features that make for exciting graphic design. Our class this year had some outstanding students and I am grateful to Sophia for all her hard work, to Tala and Woo for always being ready to jump in and help (Tala, I'll miss you and wish you luck at Liberty High) and to Uncle Derrick for his PhotoShop mastery. Good job, team!

Wow .. . I can't believe this year is already over. When I first started as Editor-in-Chief this year, I was overwhelmed and stressed by the heavy workload. There were endless tasks to be done and so little time. It was extremely stressful but at the same time, I learned so much from it. I want to thank Ms. Klinger and Carolyn for their consistent help and organization; Tala, Jessica, Hannah and Karen for their support; Derrick for his PhotoShop skills and everyone else for all the wonderful work they completed. I will never forget the extra, extra, extra hours I spent and the neverending fights with s-l-o-w computers. I'm glad to finally leave the orange walls behind and GOOD LUCK to Jessica for next year~!

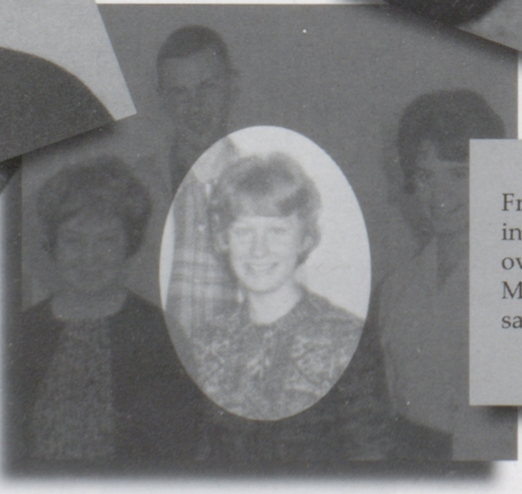
Good Bye...

After four stellar years as our principal, Ms. Sherratt has decided it's time to retire. A beloved leader, she has touched students and staff alike with her friendliness and caring. Margie Sherratt is a born-and-bred Alamedan – she lived on Bay Street and on Thompson Avenue as a child, attended Alameda High, where she was involved in Leadership (no surprise) all four years, and graduated as Senior Class Vice-President. After attending Chico State, Ms. Sherratt taught English at Lincoln Middle School, taking some time out to raise four children (all of whom attended AHS). In 1990, Ms. Sherratt joined the Hornet staff as head counselor where she helped confused adolescents figure out their lives and helped confused teachers figure out the standardized testing. A year at the District Office to qualify as an adminstrator and back she came! Ms. Sherratt has touched many, many lives as she has led Alameda High, and her kindness, wisdom and caring will not soon be forgotten. Though we don't want her to leave, we wish her a fabulous and happy next phase of her life!

Yes, Ms. Sherratt was once a Senior, too! At left is her Senior portrait from the class of 1965. Did she imagine people would be looking at her portrait 40 years later? Who will be looking at yours in 2044?



From Freshman year as an officer in Student Council (highlighted in oval) to Head Counselor, (above) Ms. Sherratt looks remarkably the same -- smiling and bright-eyed.

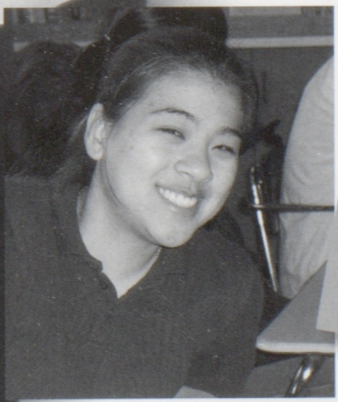
Ms. Sherratt

"I think that Ms. Sherratt is a really cool person. I really get along with her. I talk to her sometimes in the hallway."
-Anh Nguyen, '04

"Ms. Sherratt is an awesome principal. She's hip and cool and runs the school great. It's kind of cool haing a female principal."
-Grace Mun, '05

"I think that she is very responsible and yet understanding to all students, she also keeps the rules to keep our school wonderful."
-Herbie Roxas, '04

"I think she's a really good principal because she really cares about the students and she takes the time to get to know them."
-Christina Perricone, '04



"Ms. Sherratt always wants the best for her students!"
